THE South-Carolina Gazette.

From MONDAY Auguſt 19th, to MONDAY Auguſt 26th, 1751.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 8.

AFTER the various changes that have one after another been made in our miniſtry, it was very natural to imagine that there would be a great alteration in the ſtate of our affairs; we continue, however, to enjoy a perfect ſtate of tranquility here, notwithſtanding ſuch fluctuations, and the ſentiments of our new miniſters in all reſpects comport with the pacific inclinations of his highneſs.

A French ſhip lately arrived in our port having on board the Baſhaw of Rhodes, who was ſent hither by the grand maſter of Malta, that notorious villain is forthwith to be carried before his highneſs, but whether he will be acquitted, or moſt ſeverely puniſhed, we are not able as yet to determine.

As to the ſtate of affairs in Perſia, we hear, that the contending parties are ſtill ſubſiſting, and continue to harraſs each other to that degree, that the kingdom is in a very fair way of being abſolutely ruined and undone, through their implacable animoſities.

Turin, May 8. We have received advice here, that all matters relating to the abdication of the Infant Cardinal are actually ſettled and adjuſted between the courts of Spain and Rome.

We are credibly informed likewiſe, that by virtue of ſuch agreement between thoſe two courts, the ſeveral valuable livings, of which he is at preſent poſſeſſed, will be diſpos'd of, and moreover, that he is to have a very ample ſettlement by way of patrimony, and that he will ſoon be married to ſome princeſs in one of the illuſtrious houſes that are in alliance with Spain.

Madrid, May 4. We expect every day to hear, that the ſhips which are to carry over a large quantity of quickſilver, in order to try experiments at the mines in New Spain, have ſet ſail for Vera cruz.

His majeſty has ſent likewiſe expreſs orders, in the ſaid veſſels, to all the governors and commanders of the ſeveral ports in that country, to enquire ſtrictly into the matter complained of by the Engliſh court, in regard to the ſeizure of ſeveral of their ſhips by the Spaniſh Guarda Coſtas, and to find out if thoſe grievances are juſtly grounded; and if ſo, his majeſty's will and pleaſure is, that not only the ſhips themſelves ſhould be reſtored to the proprietors, but that they ſhould be fully paid and ſatisfied for the damages they had ſuſtained by virtue of ſuch illegal captures.

Madrid, May 11. As Mr. Keene, his Britannic majeſty's ambaſſador at our court, has lately preſented to the miniſters of his Catholic majeſty, a memorial for the better regulation of the Britiſh veſſels trading to the Weſt Indies, the ſaid memorial is now upon the carpet, and under actual conſideration by the king's council.

Genoa, May 8. By advices from Madrid, we learn, that his Britannic majeſty's ambaſſador at that court, having received new diſpatches from the court of London, he communicated the contents of them forthwith to the miniſters of his Catholic majeſty, wherein proper thanks were return'd to his Catholic majeſty, for the friendly orders which he thought proper to diſpatch to his governors in the Weſt-Indies, to take care for the future that no Engliſh ſhips ſhould be frized or retarded, unleſs they were well aſſur'd that the captains of ſuch ſhips had contraband effects on board.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, April 20.

"A member of the academy of Berlin has juſt publiſhed a letter, wherein he lays down a new Theory, viz. That the earth and all the planets, have been approaching the Sun gradually, ever ſince the creation; but proves this only by aſſerting, that the moſt rarified fluids evaporate. The conſequences of this new ſyſtem muſt be vaſt, the general conflagration of courſe aſcertained, and the year muſt have decreaſed gradually, as the circle of rotation has been proportionably diminiſh'd. You will hear diſſertations on this letter without number."

Francfort, May 9. All the Proteſtant courts in Thoringia, Franconia and Swabia, are gone into deep mourning for the prince of Wales.

Cracovia, May 2. The laſt letters from Chocrim adviſe, that the Ottoman Porte has prohibited the ſending of cattle and corn into Ruſſia, under very ſevere penalties, and that there was great talk of forming a camp near that city of 40,000 Ottoman troops ſome time this month. Theſe letters add, that a Turkiſh engineer was arrived there to viſit the fortifications, in order to have them repaired and augmented, the materials being already provided for that purpoſe. Other advices from the frontiers import, that the Turks continue to erect great magazines there, both for proviſions and ſtores, and that the Hoſpodar of Walachia is ordered to do the ſame. As to the Tartars, they continue to make incurſions upon the Ruſſian territories, but with what ſucceſs is not known.

Berlin, May 8. His Pruſſian majeſty has declared, with reſpect to the proprietors intereſted in the company of Embden, that they ſhall enjoy perfect ſecurity in their property, notwithſtanding the powers of which they are ſubjects, may take part againſt him in the war which is like to break out in Europe.

Extract of a Letter from Peterſburg, April 13, N. S.

'The arrival of three young ladies, brought up to town under 'an eſcorte, makes a great noiſe here, on account of the ſingulari'ty of the caſe, which is not only extraordinary but unprecedented.

'Thoſe ladies who are the daughters of count Douglas, Lieu'tenant General, to whom the empreſs had juſt granted a diſmiſſi'on from her ſervice, applied to the governor of Revel, where 'they reſided, praying him to put them under arreſt; alledging 'that they had ſome important things to communicate to her Impe'rial majeſty againſt their father, which were of a treaſonable na'ture. The governor did all he could to divert them from ſo un'natural a deſign: He ſhewed them the danger to which they ex'poſed themſelves and all their family. Among other things he 'repreſented to them, that according to the laws of the Empire, 'the party that impeaches any one of a capital crime, muſt under'go the rack three times before the perſon accuſed can be put to 'the torture: But his exhortations were fruitleſs; the three ladies 'perſiſted in their reſolution, and even threaten'd the governor 'with an information againſt himſelf, if he any longer delay'd to 'grant their requeſt; ſo that he was forced to comply and ſend 'them hither.

'As ſoon as Count Douglas heard of the ſhocking proceeding 'of his daughters, he immediately poſted up to town, in order to 'prevent, if poſſible, the terrible conſequences of it. Several per'ſons, who intereſt themſelves in this affair, have made repreſen'tations to the Empreſs about it, urging in particular a law of the 'Emperor Peter the great, which enacts, that if any children be 'found ſo void of duty and natural affection, as to impeach their 'parents, their accuſation ſhall not only be rejected, but they ſhall 'be moreover ſeverely puniſh'd, and then ſent back to their 'parents, &c.

'We do not yet know what effect theſe repreſentations have 'had, but we are aſſured that the Empreſs has reſolved to have 'thoſe ladies examined in her preſence: In the mean while Count 'Douglas is put under arreſt. It is ſaid his three daughters have 'deſired to be admitted to embrace the Greek religion. Our ſea 'and land officers are ſetting out ſucceſſively for their reſpective 'poſts. The fleet at Cronſtadt conſiſts of 35 ſhips of the line 'and frigates; and that part of the gallies are order'd to be equip'ped and victualled for three months. Divers orders of a private 'nature have been ſent to Revel, and other cities, in conſequence 'of the diſcoveries made by Count Douglas's daughters.'

Edinburgh, April 28. A remarkable inſtance of the power of the Electrical Aura has lately happen'd in this place. Robert Moubray, who in the beginning of January was ſtruck with a compleat Palſy of the tongue, and ſince that time entirely loſt the uſe of his ſpeech, was taken into the royal infirmary ſome weeks thereafter, where, by the uſe of remedies, he was, in a great meaſure, relieved of other ſymptoms that attended him; but the Palſy of his tongue remaining obſtinate, he was at laſt order'd by the phyſicians to lay aſide the uſe of all medicines, that he might fairly try what electrifing would do in ſuch a caſe: Accordingly laſt week it was begun, and by Saturday he was able to extend and put out his tongue, which till then had remain'd dead and motionleſs. On monda he could plainly articulate a few words; and, after repeating the experiment on Tueſday, he ſpoke diſtinctly, to his own great joy, and the ſurprize of all who were preſent.

London, May 13. We hear that a bill will be brought into parliament, that in caſe we ſhould be ſo unhappy as to loſe his majeſty during during the prince of Wales's minority, the parliament then sitting, shall continue for three years longer.

May 14. Yesterday the house of peers pass'd the bill for settling the regency, and sent it to the commons for their concurrence.

May 15. Two very eminent mathematicians, &c. are going in Commmodore Rodney's ship to the South-Seas.

A 20 gun ship is also appointed to accompany the Commodore.

May 18. We hear that a bill will shortly be brought into parliament, for permitting Foreign linnen yarn to be imported into this kingdom, which, if it passes, will enable us to sell stripes and checks as reasonable as our neighbours.

May 22. This day his majesty will go to the house of peers, and give the royal assent to the following bills, viz.

An act to provide for the administration of the government, in case the crown should descend to any of the children of his late royal highness the prince of Wales, under the age of 18 years, and for the care and guardianship of their persons.

An act for regulating the commencement of the year, and for correcting the calendar now in use.

And to several other public and private bills.

We hear that on Monday the 13th instant, was celebrated at Wentworth house in Yorkshire, in a very magnificent manner, the birth-day of the Marquis of Rockingham, where there was the most numerous appearance of gentlemen and others ever seen on the like occasion; for whom there was an entertainment provided, which consisted, amongst several other things, of the following particulars, (to wit) 110 dishes of roast beef, 70 pies, 53 dishes of mutton, 48 hams, 55 dishes of lamb, 70 dishes of veal, 40 dishes of chickens, 104 dishes of fish: And the liquors drank on this occasion, were, 13 hogsheads of ale, 20 hogsheads of strong beer, 8 hogsheads of punch, and 4 hogsheads of wine. There were besides, 8 hogsheads of strong beer drank the following day, and 40 load of wheat baked into bread and pies. There were upwards of 10,000 guests in the whole; 3000 of which, or upwards, were entertained within the house: And after they had dined, the victuals was carried out into the booths for the populace, who had strong beer and ale as much as they pleased. The whole was conducted with as great regularity as could be expected, where there was so great a concourse of people

Amongst many other healths were drank the following, viz the king, the prince of Wales, the princess dowager of Wales, the duke, and the rest of the royal family, the church of England, as by law established, prosperity to the county of York and the trade thereof. The strong beer was most of it brew'd in the year 1730.

May 23. Yesterday the right hon. Charles Marquis of Rockingham took the oaths and his seat in the house of Peers.

May 24. We hear from Paris, that there is not only a Squadron equipping at Toulon, but that some troops are in motion in the Southern provinces of France, whence it is apprehended, that a new embarkation will speedily be made for Corsica.

This being the birth-day of his royal highness the prince of Wales, who enters into the 14th year of his age, his majesty will receive the compliments of the nobility, foreign ministers, &c. at his palace at Kensington. As will also his royal highness at Leicester-House.

Dublin, May 25. Yesterday the Rev. Mr. Whitefield arrived here from England.

BOSTON, July 1.

Extract of a Letter from Halifax, dated June 14.

"Yesterday Col Gorham had a fine new Brig launch'd, with masts, sails, and part of her lading in, before some thousands of spectators, and went off to admiration; the carpenters that built her were dress'd in clean white frocks and trowsers, clean white ruffle shirts and gold-laced hats: Such a launch I never saw before; and every thing went on quietly. His excellency governor Cornwallis gave her the name of the Osborne-Galley. She mounts 10 carriage guns, and I hear is bound from hence to Ireland, and thence to England: She is commanded by Capt. Samuel Appleton."

Annapolis, in Maryland, July 3.

We hear from all parts of the Province, that they have had a very good and plentiful harvest: It is supposed that there is more Wheat made this year in the country, than ever was in any one year before. And there is (God be thanked) a very good prospect for fine corn and tobacco, all over the Province.
